

Mikhail Kalashnikov

From a Stranger's Doorstep

to the Kremlin Gates

A Word from the AK Man

Mikhail Kalashnikov

From a Stranger's Doorstep to the Kremlin Gates

A Word from the AK Man

БИБЛИОТЕКА

ЧЕРЕШНЕВА В. А.

Publishing House

Military Parade

Moscow

1997

General sponsor of the publication —
Federal State Unitary Enterprise
“ROSVOOROUZHENIE” State Corporation”

Literary editing

Gary Nemchenko

Russian copy editing

Alexei Nedelin

English copy editing

Natalya Kostromskaya (director),

Alla Akopova

English style editing

Lynne Hulett

Mikhail T. Kalashnikov. From a Stranger's Doorstep to the Kremlin Gates.
Moscow: Published by Military Parade Ltd., 480 p.

The world-famous small-arms designer Mikhail T. Kalashnikov in his memoirs gives a very frank account of his life, career, meetings with people, trips in Russia and abroad, including facts which have never been disclosed for various reasons.

The book is intended for both specialists and the general reader.

ISBN 5-7734-0009-X

© Text - M.T. Kalashnikov, 1997

© Rosvoorouzhenie, 1997

© Design - Military Parade Ltd., 1997

© Translation - Military Parade Ltd., 1997

CONTENTS

1. Kalashnikov Cause
5
2. I Was Born with a Silver Spoon in My Mouth
23
3. Soldiering
56
4. Half-Dead Soldier
85
5. Mikhtim
129
6. “Falkons, Fly as High as Daring Hawks...”
167
7. Kovrov is ‘Tula,’ too“
203
8. Birth of the AK-47
235
9. Fully-armed
266
9. There Are More Things in Heaven and Earth, Horatio”
301
11. Innermost Thoughts
316
12. After the ‘Shot in the Dark’
335
13. A Kalashnikov Hunt
383
14. My ‘Black Box Data Recorder’
403
15. Grey-Haired General Keeps on Working
433